Living for the One who branded us...JESUS!!

Hope you all had a great week! The Spring weather is sure nice for a change. I missed church this Sunday. I was a little under the weather, but heard there was another great crowd with still more new faces in the congregation. We are so happy to see more folks gettin' in church.

Despite a few members being gone, the band played some good music, we had many praises and prayer requests and Pastor Mike continued his series of messages about the church family. Sunday's was titled "What Does it Mean to be a Member of Bull Creek Cowboy Church?", basing it on John 5:30 (NIV) By myself I can do nothing...

Saturday was the first of the sorting series at the B3C arena. Not a huge turnout, but lots of fun, some good burgers in the concession stand and a bake sale to benefit the church nursery. I'll try to have results next week.

Saturday night was the Secret Sister Reveal party. I heard they had a great time of visiting with just "the girls" and some good snacks.

Sunday evening was the second free movie for B3C, showing the movie "Flywheel". It was a very heartwarming movie showing what can happen in your life when you turn it over to God.

Next weekend is the TFCC Ranch House School of Cowboy Church Planting. They have it every quarter in different locations in Texas. This time it's close to us near Tyler. I think several are planning to go. They have singin', worshipin', eatin' and many workshops on the various aspects of the cowboy church.

Not this Saturday, but the following will be the monthly men's breakfast. I'll tell you next week where it will be for sure. At first it was to be at Pott's Feed Store in Emory, but I've heard talk of it being at the church so the guys can work on the youth building afterwards.

That's about it for this week folks! Hope you have a good one! Spring is in the air, so everybody get busy with something worthwhile. Remember, God will direct your footsteps, but you must be willing to pick up your feet. Happy trails!
